Jury Out An Hour Brings In Verdict at 11.15
This Morning

The jury in the case of Hattie LeBlanc came in at 11.15 today and reported a verdict of not guilty.

SUICIDE AT EXETER JAIL

Frank C. Davis, aged 53, who had been living with a daughter at Winthrop, Mass., committed suicide on Tuesday afternoon at Exeter jail by hanging himself from a door. The act was committed between 2 and 3 o'clock during the absence of turnkey Beverly S. McGaughey at the station, where he went for a prisoner.

Davis came last Saturday evening to the home of his father in law, Edward Nichols, on High street, Sunday morning in sudden frenzy he seized and the jury were out a little over an hour.

The verdict was the signal for a great outpouring of congratulations by friends of the unfortunate little French girl.

Davis was arraigned in police court Monday for assault with intent to kill and committed to jail. For four years he had been a sufferer from locomotor ataxia, which doubtless affected his mind. He was born in Newfield, Me., and was a carpenter. Besides the wife, he leaves in Winthrop a daughter by a former marriage.

DEDICATE NEW GIFT LIBRARY

At Hampton this afternoon the new Lane Memorial library was dedicated with simple yet fitting ceremonies. The building, which has recently been completed, is one of the best and best equipped in this part of the state.

The dedicatory address was delivered in the Congregational Church by Rev. C. L. Van der Pyl of Haverhill, and a response was made by the donor, Horace Lane.

Following these preliminaries adjournment was made to the library building, where it was inspected by the public. The new structure is a credit to the town and to its generous giver.

Democrats Head Ticket and Make Other Gains

COUNCIL WILL HAVE SIX REPUBLICANS AND THREE DEMOCRATS

William L. Conlon Elected to Board of Public Works and Eben H. Blaisdell Wins Out in Assessor Fight.

Mr. Daniel Wesley Badger, Democrat, was elected Mayor of Portsmouth on Tuesday in one of the closest elections for some years, defeating the Republican candidate, Freeman R. Garrett, by 61 majority. The Republicans retain control of the Council having six out of the nine councilmen, losing one councilman-at-large, and with another ward councilman with a recount demanded. The Democrats gained a member of the Board of Public Works electing William L. Conlon over William J. Cator, Republican.

The Democrats elected councilmen from Wards 1 and 3 and in Ward Four of their candidates were only defeated by five votes and a recount will be asked. In the other wards the Republicans elected the councilmen by safe majorities. The Board of Instruction was elected without opposition, the retiring members being returned.

The election, coming after one of the liveliest campaigns ever waged by either party in this city, was interesting from more than one viewpoint. It will always be noted for the strict watch kept on the vote-buying, and it is safe to say that there was less buying in this city on Tuesday than for many years past. Some of the floaters may have been handed something, but they were the kind that could be trusted to a certain degree, for nobody was willing to take a chance after the warnings sent out and with the rewards that had been offered for the detection of bribery.

The vote was much heavier than a year ago, about the same as was cast in the state election in November. A year ago the total vote for Mayor was 1850, and Tuesday it was 2085. The ward committees of both parties were very active and they were early at work and every effort was made on both sides to get out a big vote. There were watchers at every ward and some challenges were made but they were allowed to vote after taking the usual oath. In Ward 4 Assistant Superintendent of Streets Ridge was challenged by Lawyer Guptill on the ground that he had intimidated a voter, but he was allowed to vote. In Ward 9 William McGinnis, a politician, was challenged, and he had to take the oath before being allowed to cast his ballot.

Other than the little excitement caused by these challenges the voting was devoid of any special interest, although a much larger crowd than of former years remained about the polling places on the lookout for some trouble.

There was a much greater interest in the election than for many years, and this was confined especially to the Mayor's election, the Board of Public Works and the Assessor of Taxes, and the returns from the various wards was anxiously received.

The returns were made much quicker than in former years, and at six o'clock Wards 1, 3 and 5 were announced and a little later Ward 4, and shortly after eight o'clock Ward 2 finished.

An analysis of the vote showed some surprises. In Ward 1, one of the Republican strongholds, Mr. Garrett only had five majority and in the same ward William L. Conlon, Democrat, won out by seven votes; again

Eben H. Blaisdell, Republican candidate for assessor of taxes, had 131 not sufficient to overcome the big majority of Ralph Walker, and William Littlefield, the Democratic candidate for the council from that ward. There was a lively fight for the board of assessors, and Ralph Walker won out by 12 votes.

Mr. Garrett was cut heavily in Ward 2, and only defeated Mr. Badger in the banner Republican ward by jority given Blaisdell in his home 22 votes; he had 22 more in Ward 4 and 25 in Ward 5, but these were

LIFE SAVERS AGAIN HOPEFUL

Possibility of Pension for Brave Coast Guards Seems Greater

The news that Collector Loeb had Monday signed his name at the head of a petition asking Congress to provide old age pensions for the men of the life saving service was received by the coast guards with deep gratitude, and the welcome information has inspired them with the firm belief that after long years of patient waiting the old and infirm of the service will be rewarded by the government.

For many years, almost from the date of the reorganization of the U. S. life saving service, Supt. S. L. Kimball and countless other friends of the coast guards have been vainly striving to have Congress provide some measure of relief for the men, when on account of old age, or infirmities or injuries received in the performance of their duties, they became no longer able to perform their arduous work.

During his last year in office ex-

President Roosevelt's attention was called to the matter and although he urged that the government provide some measure of relief for the men, nothing was done, the several bills then before Congress remaining unheeded, as they had been for many years.

All along the Atlantic coast, on the gulf and on the great lakes may be found hundreds of ex-life savers, men who were dropped from the service on account of old age, or injuries received, who are dependent upon the charity of friends. Crippled from protracted exposure to the roughest weather condition in the rigors of winter, one life saver after another has been compelled to retire from the service without the slightest reward for years of faithful performance of duty. It is for these men that Congress has been urged for many years to provide some measure of relief, and now that Col-

come from errors in diet, from too little exercise or from the mistakes we commit without thinking of consequences. These sicknesses may be slight at first, but they hinder work, prevent advancement or bring depression and spoil enjoyment. What is worse, they lead to serious physical disorders if not checked in time; but you CAN check them easily and quickly. They will lector Loeb has given his assistance it is confidently expected that some action will be taken in the matter.

The chief difficulty in past years in the matter has been the failure of the friends of the service in getting the house to take the bill out of the committee. Last year Mr. Kimball and others who were working to have the matter brought up for action hoped that at last the bill would be reported by the house committee, but at the very last moment they were again doomed to disappointment, the committee failing to report.

Senator W. M. Crane became deeply interested last year, and principally through his efforts the Senate reported favorably upon the bill, then pending, but the members of the house committee were against it by a majority of one and that settled the matter.

What the petitioners desire is that Congress provide a measure that will permit members of the life saving service who have served for a period of 25 years or more and have reached age of 65 to retire on part pay, and also a provision that when a life saver is injured in the performance of his duty or crippled on account of the hardships that he has been compelled to endure he may also be retired on part pay.

Under the present law, when a lifesaver meets with a mishap that compels him to give up his work, he is paid for a short time or until it is found that he can no longer engage in the service, when he is promptly dropped out of the service. In the event of a lifesaver meets with death in the performance of his duty, his widow or children may receive an amount equal to the salary of the lifesaver for one year and possibly, under certain conditions, for a period of two years, but under no circumstances for a longer time.

The failure of congress to provide a pension bill or some measure of relief seriously impaired the service a few years. In order if possible to counteract this effect a provision was made that provided for an allowance of $9 a month for "grub," and in addition the No. 1 man of each station had his monthly wages increased from $65 to $70. Prior to this provision the men were paid but $65 a month and obliged to provide food and clothing for themselves the government furnishing nothing but the stations and the equipment. The $9 a month for "grub" helped in a way to soothe the feelings of some of the men, but still there has been a general dissatisfaction among the crews. Last year numbers of old men in the service dropped out disgusted with the ungrateful treatment they had received at the hands of congress, and it is believed that unless something is soon done for the men there will be a general exodus from the service.

While the petition headed by Collector Loeb asks congress to provide a pension for the life savers there is still a belief among some of the friends of the men that it would be a great deal better if the service were a branch of the revenue cutter service. Then the life savers would be enlisted men and receive the same benefits as the men of that service.

Mr. Kimball's original petition was for a straight pension for the men, and it is believed that his bill, if any, will be acted upon by congress.

EXETER

Exeter, Dec. 11.

Today sees the close of the deer season, and the number shot in this locality does not equal that of a year ago. The gamblers started out with a rush and succeeded in killing several of them, but during the past few days they have become wilder and can't capture a deer. Probably the entire number killed in a radius of five miles, has not been more than six for the season, and if more are not killed from now until twelve o'clock tonight, the season will pass for an off one. The ground for the most part has been free from snow, but on the second day there was a light fall which helped track the animals. Accidents have also been few this season, there not being one case of accidental shooting reported during the deer season.

Probably not for years has the skating been so good as it is at present on Fresh river, and a generous proportion of the townspeople and students are enjoying the sport. Many of the local dealers are also selling skis for the skaters, and one enterprising dealer disposed of $10 worth of them during a slight afternoon on the ice. Skating is also being enjoyed on the pond at the power house of the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury street railway, where nightly illuminations are the order. Many hundreds of people are on the ice daily at both places.

The Piscataqua Congregational Club will hold its sixtieth forefather's day meeting Tuesday, Dec. 20 at the parish house of the First church in Dover. Following the business meeting the Rev. Telephore Taine of Durham will report for the outlook committee on "Lay Preachers in the Church at Large." Dinner will be served at 1 o'clock. The after dinner speaker will be the Rev. Dr. G. Glean Atkins, pastor of the Central church at Providence, R. I. His subject will be "The Mission of the Exile."

At Tuesday morning's chapel service at the academy, Principal Ament announced the death of Elliott Smith '05, brother and law partner of R. Sidney Smith, '05 of New York, president of the academy's board of trustees. In consequence of his brother's death, President Smith will not preside over the year's closing exercises Wednesday, the 21st. Trustee George A. Plimpton will officiate in his stead.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Congregational church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Kent.

The women of the Unitarian church Tuesday afternoon held an attractive Christmas sale of useful and fancy articles at the vestry.

The water situation is becoming more serious daily and the ground has frozen up with an exceedingly small amount of water in it. The local supply was greatly drained by the copious use of it at the Sunday morning fire, and in the neighboring towns the wells are decidedly low. Many of the farmers are being compelled to haul water from some brook often a long distance away, to water their stock. There has not been a heavy rainfall since the early part of November, and besides the dry condition of the ground it is covered with dust.

Carl Smith, son of Horace O. Smith of Newfields, will start on Thursday to take up his duties on the Panama canal, to which he was recently assigned by the government. He has lately been engaged in a civil engineering position in Boston, and his new duties will be of this nature.

There was a great interest taken in the result of the city election and the telephones in this office were kept busy last evening. The principal question was, "Who is elected Mayor?"

RIVER PROJECTS DID NOT GET BY

The efforts of New Hampshire's congressional delegation to obtain river and harbor appropriations at this session have met with discouragement. The army engineers have just reported adversely on three different projects where surveys were authorized under river and harbor laws.

One of these was where a project for the construction of a lock and dam in the Piscataqua river was under consideration.

Another was for a channel in the Cochecho river which at high tide would accommodate ocean-going vessels of about 1000 tons capacity, having a draught of 11 to 15 feet.

The third New Hampshire project which the engineers have refused to approve is for the improvement of the Lamprey river by the removal of big bowlders which the practically in the berth of a manufacturing company at Newmarket. No one appeared in advocacy of the improvement at a public hearing called some time ago.

MIDDLE STREET BAPTIST NOTES

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock after the regular monthly supper of the parish, Mrs. N. N. Bishop of Boston is to speak in the chapel upon work in some of the interesting home mission fields which she has visited. A musical program is to be given by a quartet composed of Miss Edith Shannon, Mrs. Herbert Pettigrew, Mrs. Frank C. Renick and Mrs. W. L. Fernald and by Mr. Charles W. Gray, with Mr. P. B. Whitcomb as accompanist. All interested are invited.

Tomorrow, Thursday evening, at 7:30 in Y. M. C. A. hall occurs the annual Christmas festival of the Sunday school. In line with the modern trend in Sunday school work this is to be a "giving" entertainment. A number of interesting features are planned. There will be room for all parents and friends of the Sunday school to whom a most cordial invitation is given.

SHARP DEBATE IN THE SENATE

Cummins Speaks In Favor of Revision by Schedule

ALDRICH IN OPPOSITION

Rhode Island Senator Would Revise
Tariff "by Subjects"—Heyburn
Questions Power of Republican Party to Legislate Again on the Question—Lodge Shows Inclination
to Come to Side of Iowa Senator

Washington, Dec. 14.—Extraordinary interest developed in the senate
over the joint resolution of Senator Cummins of Iowa intended to provide for tariff revision by schedule, by limiting amendments to the schedule
under discussion.

A sensational feature was the announcement of Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island that, the country having "wisely or unwisely" turned to the Democratic party, he did not intend by any word or act to interfere with any of the responsibilities thus laid upon the Democratic party.

"The Rhode Islander thought it desirable," he said, "to revise the tariff
by subjects," but he doubted the adequacy of the Cummins rule; and he arose twice to state the position of the Republican party, that it should leave the Democrats free to deal with the tariff question in their own way.

Senator Lodge announced his sympathy with the policy of tariff revision
by schedule, and, replying to Senator Bacon's objection to the senate's "tampering itself" by means of the Cummins resolution, sharply reminding the Georgia senator that the senate
already were full of provisions
limiting amendment and debate.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho, the stiffest standpatter in the senate, questioned the power of the Republican party to legislate again on the tariff,
on the ground that it took orders only from national conventions and none had been held for two years. Cummins retorted that if all the states of the nation, or a majority of them,
should authorize tariff action in the state conventions, he would regard that as a mandate as binding as that of a national convention. "Would not the senator from Idaho?" he inquired.

"No," shouted Heyburn, "because
that is not the forum that is responsible."

Senator Aldrich again expressed his belief in "scientific tariff revision,"
but thought the rule should be considered to temporarily and not be made a matter of law, as it would be by joint resolution.

Republican standpatters and Democrats alike opposed the Cummins resolution, on the ground that it ran-dled the rights of congress, although Cummins pointed out that either branch
was free to introduce a general tariff bill at any time, and thus open up the whole subject for revision.

The Iowa senator launched out with stinging sarcasm at both sides, stating that Democrats who wanted to substitute a tariff for revenue bills of their own, of course, would vote against his resolution, as would Republicans who wanted the present law
to stand until the Democrats should sweep the country and put through such a bill as they pleased. The Democrats, he hinted, would like the Iowa law to stand as a "horrible example" for selfish and party reasons.

Senator Cummins' speech was the first attack of the session on the Payne-Aldrich law. He disavowed any intention of opening up a general tariff discussion. Still, he found it difficult to avoid a general expression on tariff questions.

"It is well known," he said, "that I consider excessive and inexcusable
many of the duties levied by the law of 1909. I know also that many people believe that the law should be amended. During the recent political struggle I did not hear a single utterance by a Republican that did not admit that the law contains duties that ought to be changed and that it is the duty of congress to act speedily. The real issue," he said, "is whether we shall so amend our rules as to permit
the amendment of the law, schedule
by schedule."

"After an experience with five tariffs, I believe that some way should be devised for the amendment of tariff laws without entering into a general revision," said Mr. Lodge, planting himself squarely on Cummins' side.

The debate drifted into a technical parliamentary discussion of the propriety of dealing with the subject by means of a joint resolution as is proposed by the Cummins resolution.

MYERS WILL BE INVALID

Estate of $6,500,000 Comes Into Direct Possession of Heirs

San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 14.—
The will of the late George S. Myers, millionaire tobacco manufacturer of St. Louis, has been declared invalid by the superior court. The court held that Myers was of unsound mind when he executed the instrument last April.
The contest over the will involved
property valued at $6,500,000.

Myers died recently at Redlands, Cal., leaving a will which placed the property in trust for a period of seventy-five years for the benefit of three daughters and grandsons. The result of the decision will be that the property goes directly to the heirs.

CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

Curtain About to Fall on Trial of Hattie LeBlanc

THE DEFENDANT FAVORED

Opinion of Lawyers Who Heard Portion of Judge's Charge Already Delivered—Counsel For Defense Cautions Jurors Not to Be Led Astray—
District Attorney Says He Is Not Trying Mrs. Glover For Murder

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 14.—Judge Daniel W. Bond adjourned court at 4:45 yesterday afternoon without giving the case to the jury, after devoting one hour and twenty-three minutes to instructing the twelve men who sit in judgment upon Hattie Le-Blanc, accused of killing Clarence F.
Glover. Attorneys who heard that portion of the judge's charge delivered yesterday declared it extremely favorable to the accused. The case will go to the jury today.

Judge Bond said that there was no controversy about the killing or the way it was caused. None of the previous hearings of defendant were evidence of the guilt of defendant.

"The jury will not think for a moment because an indictment has been found that it is evidence that this defendant must be guilty," he said.
"There opportunity is not the same that you would have where the evidence showed an exclusive opportunity. The evidence does not show here that this girl ever used a pistol. Did she have the courage to use it?"

It was not necessary, said the judge, that a motive should be proven.
The Glover statement on his death bed was excluded as "hearsay" evidence. Such evidence is not allowed in capital cases.

The fact that a defendant does not testify, said the judge, is not to be regarded by the jury as any evidence against her. The law allows such questioning as Hattie was subjected to at the Waltham police station. Was she controlled by fear that night? he asked.

Judge Bond said there was no claim that the defendant went to the laundry by appointment. It was not necessary for the defendant to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that some other person committed the crime.

The jury should consider the relations between Glover and his wife, the court said. Did Mrs. Glover have an opportunity? Was she in the neighborhood?

Attorneys for state and defense argued Tuesday in the trial, the state
contending through District Attorney Higgins that it had proved beyond a reasonable doubt the girl killed the man who wronged her, and the defense not only arguing that the girl is innocent, but that Mrs. Glover, widow of the murdered man, did the deed,
and then schooled Hattie into playing a role.

Attorney Johnson, in his plea for the girl defendant, continued in pointing out fallacies of circumstantial evidence, and urged the jury not to let such evidence lead them astray.

Johnson said three pleas were offered by the defense: the first, a plea
of not guilty, and the defense claimed that the government had not proven her guilty. The second plea is the theory that someone else did the deed.
Johnson said that even if there is a likelihood of someone else's doing it,
the defendant should have the benefit of this likelihood.

The third plea is that Mrs. Glover committed the murder. "It is not the defense's duty in trying to establish the defendant's innocence to prove
Mrs. Glover guilty. All the defense means to do is to raise a reasonable doubt that someone other than Hattie LeBlanc killed Clarence Glover."

There was no pause between the pleas of the defense and the state.
District Attorney Higgins said that just as a sick man turns to his physician in illness, the community, infested with crime disease, turns to the state's attorney.

"My purpose has not been to try
Mrs. Glover," he said. "It has only been to discover the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. The only question for you to consider is, did Hattie LeBlanc shoot Clarence Glover?"

"We don't have to prove that Hattie and Glover were in the laundry.
She admits it. There is not a particle of evidence that Mrs. Glover was in the laundry—the only evidence along this line is by some witnesses that they saw some one that they thought was Mrs. Glover in the neighborhood of the laundry."

"This crime was committed at night and in secret, like most murders. I hold no brief for Mrs. Glover. I do not say that she is a woman who has

tain facts we know what emotion is likely to follow."

TO MAKE NEW EXPERIMENT

Dr. Wiley, Supposed Confirmed
Bachelor, to Marry Suffragette

Washington, Dec. 14.—Dr. Harvey
W. Wiley is to marry a suffragette.
Miss Ann Kerner of this city is the girl who has promised to become the wife of the distinguished scientist and enemy of empire food. Miss Kerner
and her mother are prominently identified with the suffragette movement in Washington, and both have frequently addressed public meetings
demanding votes for women.

Dr. Wiley has been regarded as the most confirmed bachelor in Washington. When he is not hard at work in his laboratory looking for germs, or traveling about the country, telling the people what horrible things they eat, he can always be found at the Cosmos club, the seat of erudition in Washington. Club life has been almost as dear to him as have been his investigations in the department of agriculture. No one suspected that he contemplated marriage, or that he ever looked at woman except probably through the glasses of a trained investigator. The marriage will take place next spring.

HELD IN $10,000 EACH

Man and Woman Charged With Kidnapping Are Indicted

New York, Dec. 14.—The King county grand jury handed down indictments charging Marie Rampe and Stanislaus Battenzo, two Sicilians,
with kidnapping and holding for ransom Giuseppe Longo and Michael Lizza, the 3-year-old Brooklyn boys who were recovered in a raid by detectives.

Eight others of the band under arrest in connection with the kidnapping
escaped indictment at this time.

When the indictments were handed down the ten prisoners were arraigned before Judge Fawcett. Battenzo and Marie Rampe were held in $10,000 bail
each. The others were held in $1000
bail each as material witnesses.

BIG CATCH FOR SOME

Dutchman More Than Seven
Feet Tall Is Willing to Marry

New York, Dec. 14.—America has welcomed a new giant. He is Herman J. Onnes of Groningen, Holland, and stands 7 feet, 2 1/2 inches in his stocking feet.

Onnes arrived on the steamship Nordland. He is a bachelor, 40 years of age, and is fairly well to do. The visitor says he may determine to make the United States his home, and with this idea in view will make a trip to Minnesota to see if he can find any land that might suit his fancy. And he is willing to marry.

GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Armenian Who Killed Turk at Lowell
Escapes Death Penalty

Boston, Dec. 14.—Jogoss Mueksian,
a non-English-speaking Armenian of Lowell, was sentenced to imprisonment for life by Judge Putnam in the United States circuit court in this city,
having been convicted of murdering Mohammed Ahmed, a Turk, whom he shot on the steps of the postoffice at Lowell on Sept. 23 last.

Mueksian was charged with murder
in the first degree, the penalty for which is hanging, under the laws of the United States, but in consequence of the recommendation of the court and the expressed desires of the district attorney, to which the defendant
and his counsel assented, a verdict of guilty without capital punishment was returned by the jury after fifteen minutes' deliberation.

DREADNOUGHTS DISARMED

Changes In Brazilian Navy as Result
Of Recent Mutinies

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 14.—Radical
changes in the personnel of the Brazilian navy will be made, as a consequence of the two recent mutinies.
The government has ordered the disarmament of the dreadnoughts Sao Paulo and Minas Geraes, the battleship Deodoro and the scoutship Bahia.
Their crews have been already imprisoned in a fortress on the island of Villegaignon, in the centre of the bay.
All of these warships will have new crews throughout.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 14.—The dou-

The Octoberists favored subsequent legislation, and the Constitutional Democrats refrained from voting because they were opposed to meddling

VACANT SEAT AT BANQUET

Roosevelt Snubbed by Baldwin at New Haven

NO SERVICE OF PAPERS

Had Been Reported That Government Would Attempt to Secure Action in Suit Which He Said He Would Bring Against Former President—Latter Receives a Cordial Reception From Citizens

New Haven, Dec. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt, as the guest of the chamber of commerce at its annual banquet last night, made his first public address since the recent elections.

Mr. Roosevelt was cordially greeted by a gathering of upwards of 600 of the most representative men of the business, commercial interests and the professions of the state, for the banquet had more than ordinary significance through the presence of the chief guest, who so recently was in controversy with the late chief justice of the supreme court of errors, Judge Simon E. Baldwin, and who as the Democratic nominee for governor
overturned the political complexion of the state, and as the governor-elect
had been invited to attend.

Judge Baldwin did not attend and the place assigned to him at the guests' table bore mute evidence of his absence.

Mr. Roosevelt was escorted from New York by a committee of the chamber, headed by President Ull-
man, and upon his arrival at the station here a very large crowd was in waiting.

As Roosevelt showed himself on the platform the men cheered and the women gave a Chautauque salute so far as they could make their handkerchiefs show above the crowd. With a wave of his hat Roosevelt acknowledged the greeting and with a laugh
and a happy remark to those who eagerly reached forth to shake his hand he edged his way through the crowd to an automobile which was in waiting.

The people who had greeted him
were lined up through the station to the machine. Without delay Roosevelt was driven to the home of Ull-
man. Here a small number of friends were waiting to greet the guest.

At 7:30 Roosevelt and Ullman went to Woolsey hall, where a brief reception was held for the members of the chamber.

The coming here of Roosevelt had given rise to speculation as to whether Baldwin, following up the statement that he had made during the election canvass that a suit would be brought against Roosevelt on the basis
of criticism contained in the Concord, N. H., speech, would attempt to serve papers in the action while he was in the state. At Baldwin's office earlier in the day it was stated that there was no reason to believe that any such step would be taken by Baldwin.

Mr. Roosevelt received the warmth of greeting from the chamber members which characterized the reception to President Taft a year ago. He sat at the table placed on a dais and the diners were at small tables all centred upon the dais. It was a notable fact that Governor Weeks was not present to represent the state nor was any member of the congressional delegation present, but the absence of these was due to other engagements,
the governor attending a reception at Meriden to the national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, John B. Gilman.

The dinner was served in the dining hall of Yale university known as "Commons." The singing was led by a chorus of three dozen members of the chamber.

CLAPP WILL RECOVER

His Wife, Accused of Shooting Him,
Released on $2500 Bail

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—Although he is still in a serious condition, hospital physicians say that Herbert M.
Clapp, the clubman and grandson of Mason, the "shoe-blackening king," will probably recover from the bullet wound he received.

Mrs. Marie Clapp, his wife, who was taken into custody by the police on the strength of a statement made by the wounded husband that she shot him, was released on $2500 bail.

White Slave Law Unconstitutional
Gainsboro, N. C., Dec. 14.—In the federal court here, two men, Quaster
and Napier, charged with violating the white slave law, were found not guilty by Judge Boyd on the grounds that the law was unconstitutional in that it interfered with the principle of states rights.

Shooting In Chicago Strike

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Joseph Lepak, 16 years old, was shot and a girl strikebreaker was beaten by three men as a result of a riot in the garment workers' strike. The shot which struck the boy was fired by a policeman who was trying to guard the boy
from a mob of strikers.

Municipal Contests in Fourteen Cities of Old Bay State

Boston, Dec. 14.—Although marked by several sharp contests, both for mayor and on the license question, the results of the elections held in fourteen Massachusetts cities yesterday showed practically no turnover. No changes were recorded on the license votes. Following are the general results:

TIPS FROM AMERICANS

Enable Two Waiters to Save $1,000,
000 and Buy Big Hotel

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Max L. Tech and Carl Roester paid $1,000,000 and became the proprietors of the Congress Square and its annex. They took the title from Richard H. Southgate, and the new proprietors say their present fortune is based upon good service and a tip they received from Southgate twenty years ago when waiters.

Since then Southgate, who built the Auditorium and the Congress, has always favored these young men. They saved their money, bought a few small hotels and now will enter the business
in Chicago upon a large scale.

"We owe our start," said Tech, "to the liberality of the American people
in giving tips."

WOULD UNITE CHURCHES

Argument of Minister Who Favors
Immersion by Presbyterians

Pittsburg, Dec. 14.—At the meeting of Pittsburg Presbyterians Rev. John D. Schaff of the Western Theological seminary, reporting for a committee of which he is chairman, recommended
the elimination of the words
"sprinkling and pouring" from the book of disciplines, and the use of the word "baptize."

The adoption of the overture would mean that Presbyterian churches could immerse members just as they are immersed in Baptist and Christian churches. Schaff urges its adoption as being a means of bringing churches
closer together.

INTEREST IS FLAGGING

Coalition Still in the Lead in Elections in Great Britain

London, Dec. 14.—The election continues to drag wearily along. The public has lost interest and the newspapers have given up publishing late editions.

The standing of the parties is as follows: Government coalition—Liberals, 199; Nationalists, 58; Independent Nationalists, 9; Laborites, 38; total, 302. Opposition—Unionists, 240.

London, Dec. 14.—Oxford university defeated Cambridge university by a score of 23 to 18 in the annual rugby
football match played at Queens club.

Saving Them!

"I want you to say a few words to the meeting."
"Merely me, I am not prepared!"
"I hoped so when I asked you. The audience hasn't got an hour or two to spare."

"I hear you made a killing at the races."
"Almost."
"How close?"
"Nearly killed myself walking back."

Seasonable.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION

The fact that the Republicans entered into a factional fight a month previous to yesterday's election was the cause of a partial Democratic victory on Tuesday. The result shows that it is useless for the party to continue to fight in its own party and win. In spite of the division the party put up a good fight. It demonstrates conclusively that the party must have the confidence of the voters in any contest. It is now up to the men elected to give the people a good clean business government and they should set aside party differences and work together. There is altogether too much politics in Portsmouth.

A WISE CHOICE

That William H. Taft is a big man in more respects than in avoirdupois, and of sufficiently large calibre to amply fit the position he holds, has never been more conclusively shown than in his selection of a Democrat as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. It is, however, no more than should be expected of a man of the President's broadmindedness.

Mr. Taft believes rightly that partisan politics should not enter the judiciary, but it was not an easy task to fly in the face of a threatened storm of bigoted protest and show the country that he had the courage of his convictions.

The President should receive general commendation for his selection of the man instead of his politics when such a high office was at stake. Such actions make for the elevation of political standards.

BIRDS EYE VIEWS

Hattie LeBlanc's lawyer not inaptly brings Kipling into her case, but with his denunciation of the widow as a vampire the similitude ends. "A fool there was," indeed, but it appears to have been the little defendant.

A woman on Long Island has just been arrested for the twenty-first time for keeping pigs without a permit. This case of pigheadedness might well by this time be acquiring somewhat of a sameness to the officials.

It is charged that the Russian government is disgracing the country by taking a brutal revenge on its political opponents, and a protest has been made to the Ministers of the Interior and Justice regarding the wholesale flogging of political prisoners. Here would have been good material for Tolstoi or Merriam.

Seldom has it been given to mortal man to realize the power of newspaper advertising as thoroughly as does Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, pastor of the Warren avenue Baptist church in Boston. This is his latest: "If I had the power to annihilate, with one single effort, the evil of Christian Science, I would do it tonight with the same enthusiasm that I would raise my foot, or rather a sledge hammer, to crush the head of a poisonous serpent." Many of the Rev. Mr. Johnson's views, however, as is seen, are worthy of the advertising they receive.

The question of a constitutional convention to act quickly against polygamous practices was placed squarely before the house committee on judiciary in a Washington state concurrent resolution passed by the legislature and received by the house Monday. The resolution declares that polygamy still exists in certain places in the United States and asks congress to call a convention to propose a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy and to empower full enforcement of the law. Here we see another righteously accusing finger pointing toward Utah, whether others have pointed at intervals before with little effect.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Germany a Step Ahead

The rivalry between the British and German merchant marine, is not less keen than the rivalry of the two countries in construction of warships. The announcement that the Cunard company would build even a longer ship than the Olympic, is followed by the laying of the keel of the Europa for the Hamburg-American line. The Europa will be, for a time at least, the world's largest vessel. This German ship will be 900 feet long, 41 feet longer than the Olympic. It will have a tonnage of 50,000 and a displacement of 70,000 tons. The Europa will have nine decks above the water line, equal to the height of the largest apartment houses, and her capacity will exceed 5,000, including the crew of 750 men. Among the new features introduced will be a choice of dining rooms, a Ritz-Carlton restaurant, grill, ice room, ice garden, ricksheller, palm gardens, convertible in winter into sun parlors; women's salons in different decorative periods and national styles, "universal" telephones, the biggest gymnasium yet, running track of tan bark, trainer cubbers, squash-court swimming pool, Turkish and Roman baths, submarine signals and powerful air pumps to wait below currents of the purest air and afford equable temperature throughout. The most powerful Marconi apparatus ever set up at sea will be installed, whereby the Europa will always be in direct communication with either her home or the continent or America. This great ship is Germany's last word in steamship building. Her British rivals will have to "go some" to beat it.—Portland Argus.

A Hen Worth Having

Oh, weep for Daniel Tarbox's black hen! She is dead. The most famous character of Biddeford, Me., has gone to her reward. A great career is ended. Pay the grocer 65 cents a dozen for eggs a week old and weep. Eat a cold-storage omelet at the corner lunch counter, and weep anew. Read all the recent literature on "rots and spots," and keep right on weeping.

Capt. Tarbox's black hen was 21 years old. And that is a venerable age, among hens. She was not cut down in her prime to furnish forth a Sunday dinner. One by one her loved ones had their heads lopped off, their necks wrung; but she lived on alone, doing her duty unobtrusively—laying eggs.

Four thousand eggs she laid. Four thousand eggs! The world should erect a monument to her, a vast monolith of alabaster, carved in the likeness of a pyramid of eggs, and inscribe on it just that—"She laid 4000 eggs."

We talk of duty, we prate of industry, we preach the gospel of efficiency. Here is a duty, industry, efficiency that shames our preaching. Two hundred eggs a year, for twenty years! We have our heads. What is Rostand's "Chanticleer" to such a drama? This hen's life is a masterpiece. One chick from the sacred precincts of her nest is more than a whole barnyard chorus at daybreak.—Boston Traveler.

Congressional Log Rolling

Three bills have always led to what is called log-rolling in Congress—a public buildings bill, a river and harbor bill and a tariff bill. All three have invariably been prepared and passed on the proposition, frankly made, that I'll tickle you and you'll tickle me. Hundreds of millions have been appropriated which otherwise would never have been heard of. Significant screams have been dredged which otherwise would have

A TIMELY TOPIC

—BY—
REGINALD WRIGHT KAUFFMAN,

How to Remain
Young

THE day of old men was hurried to its close by the unnatural breaking of the day of young men, and now that the day of young men cruelly forced is ended, now that most of our Young Napoleons of Finance have been shipped to their St. Helena and most of our Young Captains of Industry are once more working for a living, there has dawned the day of the Middle Aged. We shall protest against it. The census will show some of us declaring that we are no older than we were a decade ago; but we all know in our hearts that these last ten years have aged our bodies a full score.

Is this fatality of middle age inevitable? I, for one, agree with the morning star of patent medicine advertising: "There is hope." The bones may harden and the muscles soften; the hair may whiten sooner; but the conditions that affect these mere habiliments need in no wise harm the spirit that those habiliments enfold. Better than in any time preceding, in this time of the railway and the telegraph of newspapers and magazines a legion, of libraries of Andrew Carnegie, may we keep the mind young. Emerson, declaring that "the surest poison is time," was a slave to the tradition that the worth-while pleasures of youth passed away when youth passed. In his better moments no man saw more clearly that what was worth while might be retained. But what may be retained is of the mind only. Few things are more grotesque or pitiable than the man who clings too desperately to the youth of his body.

It is, then, the youth of the mind that we can retain with dignity and may temper with experience. Apollo is never old, and all men have in them enough of Apollo to be worth saving. It is in the art of that salvage that there lies the secret of remaining young.

RIVER AND HARBOR

The schooner T. W. Cooper, a lumber laden arrived in the lower harbor last night, made the run from St. John, N. B., in 30 hours, which is "going some." She had a strong northerly breeze all the way.

The British three master Margaret G, which ran ashore at New Castle Tuesday morning, grounded again on Fawn Bar at the entrance to Broad Sound, Bogien harbor late in the afternoon. She floated without injury.

Capt. Freeman H. Ward, founder of Masters, Mates and Pilots, died at his home at Bridgeport, Conn. He was born in Bridgeport, June 21, 1843, and for more than 26 years commanded the boat which carried prisoners from New York city to Blackwell's island, retiring a few months ago. He was senior past grand captain of harbor 1 of the Masters, Mates and Pilots association, and with his death the office passes out of existence. A widow survives.

The little life carrier Hume made port Tuesday evening with her jib and jib stay trailing under the bows, having carried them away coming up from Portland with a fresh nor'wester.

Barge No. 18 was towed to the lower harbor this morning and barge Ashland docked at the Consolidated Coal company's new wharf in her place to discharge.

ANNUAL

GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT

As is the annual custom, the members of the Grafton club observed gentlemen's night, on Tuesday evening, at Association hall.

The President, Mrs. Charles W. Brewster, assisted by officers of the club held a short reception for the members and invited guests. This was followed by a musical entertainment of rare merit, given by Mrs. Jessie Downer Eaton, pianist, and Mr. Louise Eaton, violinist. A large number were present to enjoy what proved to be a most delightful occasion.

Refreshments were in charge of the social committee, Mrs. William G. Marshall acting as chairman; Mrs. M. F. Wentworth, Miss Eleanor Lovell poured coffee, and Mrs. Brewster and Mrs. A. F. Howard served refreshments.

The following was the musical program:

TROVATO GETS FIVE YEARS IN PRISON

Sentenced for Killing of Raphael Pappasdero, a Fellow Italian.

Agostino Trovato, convicted by jury of manslaughter in the second degree, by causing the death of Raphael Pappasdero in this city, June 6, was brought before Judge Chamberlin in superior court on Tuesday afternoon, when County Solicitor Charles D. Hatchelder, moved for sentence.

Trovato had nothing to say and Judge Chamberlin imposed a sentence of not less than five or more than seven years in the state prison at Concord.

Trovato took the sentence calmly and he was immediately removed to the jail and he will be taken to Concord today.

Sentences were imposed on two men convicted of liquor selling this morning as follows: Charles Marotta, 6 months in jail, fine of $200, costs $60; Andrew Callahan, 90 days in jail, fine of $100 and costs of $30. Two civil cases are being heard as follows: Lucy Annazee vs. the town of New Castle, involving business transacted by a person alleged to be mentally irresponsible; and D. J. Crowley vs. C. A. Badger, a case of trespass.

The Call divorce case is set for hearing in this city Friday before Judge Robert N. Chamberlin. When the docket of court cases was read, William M. Marvin, counsel for Mrs. Mabelle L. Call, the libellant against Thomas E. Call, said he understands that Col. John H. Bartlett, Mr. Call's lawyer, desires to have two bills in equity heard first, in order that the financial end of the suit may not be influenced by the divorce. Judge Chamberlin said it was not necessary to hear the bills in equity, which involve $110.00, so the divorce case was set for Friday.

Attorney John Scammon filed a motion that Arthur F. Lowe, trustee in bankruptcy of the Salmon River

Paper company, be allowed to come in on about $2900 recently won in court by Harry A. Waldron against W. T. Lowe, the general manager of the company.

KITTERY LETTER

Kittery, Dec. 14.

The social whirl in town for the remainder of the evenings this week is fairly giddy. This evening there will be a bean supper and sale at the Bennett school; Thursday evening the Rebekahs give a cantata and sale at Wentworth Hall, and there will be an entertainment and sale at the First Methodist Church at North Kittery; Friday evening there is an apron and needle dance by the senior class of Trapp Academy in Wentworth Hall, a cotillion party and social by the Epworth League in the Second Methodist Church vestry, and an entertainment by the Glee Club of the cruiser North Carolina at the First Methodist Church at North Kittery. In addition to these the usual lodge meetings will be held.

TO ALL SURVIVORS OF INDIAN WARS

We desire to obtain the addresses of all those who served on the frontier against hostile Indians in the United States and Volunteer Service from the close of the Civil War until 1883, in order that their names may be placed on the books of the N. J. W. V. Association, so that they may benefit by the act now pending before Congress, as soon as it becomes a law.

The National Indian War Veterans, organized for the purpose of procuring pensions for its members, have sent two of its order, the national commander, Henry Herz, and the national secretary, C. R. Heuser, to Washington, D. C., there for the purpose of accomplishing this object.

These brave and noble soldiers who so valiantly defended and protected the western frontier in the early days, making it possible for this generation to develop its unlimited resources and to live in peace and prosperity, are entitled to the same recognition that this government so justly accords to survivors of other wars.

Henry Hegwer,

National Commander, N. J. W. V.

C. R. Heuser,

National Secretary, N. J. W. V.

His Serious Condition.

East Indian telegraphers have sometimes to deal with amusing messages. An intelligent sepooy once went into an office and handed in a message to be sent to a station in central India. Having read it, the operator told him there was something wrong.

"No, sahib—no, sahib; me knows English," replied the native soldier laughingly. The operator forwarded the message, which ran: "Come quick. Father dangerously dead."

The Air Brakes.

Contrary to the general impression, the air pressure used in the air brake on railroad cars is applied to hold the brake shoes away from the car wheels. The instant that the air pressure is released the brake shoes are forced against the car wheels, bringing the car or train to a stop. It is the releasing of the air or the passage of the air through the valves that causes the whistling noise heard under the cars.

ELKS ENTERTAIN WARWICK CLUB

A Banquet One of the Pleasant Features—Many Speakers Heard.

The crowning event in the entertainment line by the Portsmouth lodge of Elks was held on Tuesday evening at their home on Pleasant street, when they had as their guests the members of the Warwick club, and although the home has seen many fine times, none ever equalled that of last evening.

There were between ninety and a hundred members of the Warwick club present and they arrived shortly after eight o'clock and were met by a reception committee composed of Exalted Ruler Augustine Dondoro and Past Exalted Ruler George D. Marcy, D. A. Leary, Andrew O. Caswell, William H. Moran, F. W. Hartford, Ernest L. Chaney and John G. Graham. They were made to feel at home at once and after an inspection of the home, various amusements were taken up. These included a bowling match between the Warwick club and the Elks in which the Warwick team won by forty-four pins. The team of the Warwick club was H. E. Boynton, Dr. A. J. Lance, George B. Wallace, Fred Oldfield and Guy Kennard. The Elks' team included Robert Capstick, Henry Cragen, Jerry Lynes, John T. Lambert and Dr. J. D. Carly.

During this time in the house, Philbrick's orchestra furnished an excellent concert and Mr. Prescott of Boston gave an entertainment.

At nine o'clock line was formed with Mayor E. H. Adams and Ex-Mayor W. E. Marvin leading, and they marched to the lodge room on the upper floor which was made into an excellent banquet hall with tables prettily decorated. There were 160 people seated at four long tables, while at the head were the officers of the visiting club and city officials.

The entering was under the direction of Chef F. C. Berry and with an able corps of waiters the following

Escalloped Oysters
Lobster Salad
Chicken Croquets With Peas
Rice Olives Celery
Ice Cream and Cake
Cheese and Crackers
Coffee and Cigars

When cigars were reached Exalted Ruler Augustine Dondoro, who presided, in a brief speech stated the object of the invitation, their desire to show their home and to extend cordial greetings to the members of the Warwick club.

President John Pender responded for the Warwick club and in a brilliant speech complimented the Elks that he hoped that the Warwick club in time would also have such a handsome home where they could return the honors for this hospitable entertainment of the evening.

Mayor Edward J. Adams was the next speaker and he said that this was somewhat in the nature of a farewell address for him, as Mayor.

Mayor-elect Daniel W. Badger was the next speaker and he received a great ovation, and it was some minutes before he could get a chance to speak, and although tired out after the day's work at the polls, he made a brief speech.

Ex-Mayor William E. Marvin was next introduced, and his witty remarks kept the crowd in a roar.

Past Exalted Ruler F. W. Hartford spoke on the loyalty of the Elks and of the great benefits derived from a membership. He branched off to the result of the city election, and said he hoped that now that it was all over, politics would be dropped and everybody take to the middle of the road and boom Portsmouth and its interests.

Dudley Prescott of Boston, an imitable mimic appeared several times as an entertainer, and made a great hit on each occasion.

Mr. William L. Conlon, successful candidate for the Board of Public Works, was the last speaker.

As the clock struck eleven, the hall was darkened and Esquire James A. McCarthy gave the Elks' impressive toast to absent members.

When the banquet broke up the guests and members adjourned to the lower floors where the orchestra music and songs served to pass away the hour before midnight, when good-night was said.

Taken as a whole it was one of the most successful entertainments ever given in this city and it reflects great credit on the bustling officers of this lodge, of which the city has just cause to be proud.

The following was the committee in charge of the arrangements: James A. McCarthy, John G. Sweetser, Andrew O. Caswell, H. M. Finn and C. E. Trafton.

NAVAL MILITIA BILL DRAWN UP

Follows Lines of the Dick Bill for the Army.

The general board of the naval militia met here Monday and practically perfected a bill governing the militia organization, which will be presented to congress. It will be drawn along the lines of the Dick bill, which controls the organization of the army militia, with changes necessary to meet the requirements of the navy. The board was addressed by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop, who outlined the work done by the militia during the last year, and expressed his views as to the needed changes.

RAILROAD CREW FIGHTING FIRE

Theatrical Topics

Young-Adams Co. in Drama and Vaudeville.

Of all the stock companies of recent years, that have been playing throughout this country none have proven more successful than the Young-Adams Stock company which will be seen at Music Hall Jan. 2, 3 and 4 with a list of first class productions never before given at popular prices. The crowded houses time and time again have more than attested to well deserved popularity of the company.

In speaking of this company an exchange says: "Theatregoers who appreciate what is good and enjoyable in a drama will note with regret that the H. Willnot Young and Marjorie Adams company have but four more performances to give before their engagement comes to an end. Seldom before has a single organization given so many enjoyable productions in a week in this city. It has been a case where it seems that each succeeding production was better than its predecessor and slowly but surely Miss Adams has established herself in this city as one of the cleverest actresses that has ever appeared at popular prices."

The Age of Musical Comedy

The wise men in the theatrical world are unanimous in the opinion that the public is eager to be entertained with the bright things of the mimic world. In testimony of the above statement it can be said that the reigning successes at present in the large cities are comedies and musical comedies. With this idea in mind, the Kitzes and Phelan Amusement company has gotten together an organization for the presentation of modern up to date, musical comedies. Performances that are guaranteed to be equal to many of the high priced performances and comedies that are offered at the first time at popular prices.

Among the plays may be mentioned B. C. Whitney's three productions: "A Knight for a Day," "Isle of Spice" and "The Show Girl" and in addition to these may be mentioned the big New England success "Coming Thru the Rye." These comedies will be presented with special scenery, lighting effects and the original Whitney costumes. A company of 40 people has been engaged and the same is headed by one of the funniest and most versatile comedians on the stage today: George Ovey.

Mr. Ovey will be seen in the leading comedy roles in the above mentioned musical comedies and that he does them all well, is tribute enough for any comedian. These characters have been played by such comedians as Frank Lator and John Slavin and it would seem almost a heresy to say that Mr. Ovey is the equal of these men in the parts, but we make the unqualified statement and would ask our patrons to judge. A competent chorus has also been engaged, among them six pony dancers, that will also challenge comparison with the higher priced companies. The generous patronage that has been accorded this attraction has made it possible to give a great big show for little money, and the best advertisers the management has, is the well pleased audience that leaves the theatre Monday night after witnessing the opening performance. Hence the admonition, "Be in on the opening."

Boston Opera House

Following is the repertoire of the Boston Opera company at the Boston Opera House for the seventh week, and it will be noted that the regular Wednesday evening subscription performance has been transferred to Thursday evening, Dec. 2, when in conjunction with the opera La Pagliacci by Leoncavallo, the Imperial Russian Dancers, Anna Pavlova and Mikhail Mordkin and complete ballet will present the Arabian Knights.

On Monday evening, Dec. 19 will be presented Carmen, in French by Ritzel, with Maria Gay in the title role, and Giovanni Zentello in the role of Don Jose. Leon Rohler will sing Il Dancero, Alice Nielsen Micaela and Renée Fisher Frasquita and Anne Roberts Mercedes. Others in the cast will be C. Siroesco, Ernesto Giaccone, Carl Gantvoort, Attilio Pulcini. Andre Caplet will conduct the opera.

Thursday evening, Dec. 22, will be given La Pagliacci in Italian, with Carmen Melis as Nedda, and Florenco Constantino as Canio. Carlo Galletti will be Tonio, Fornari Silvio, and Giaccone, Renée. Others in the cast are C. Siroesco and Frederick Huddy. Roberto Moranzoni will conduct. The opera will be followed by the Imperial Russian Dancers and complete Ballet, in the Arabian Knights.

Friday evening, Dec. 23 at 8, La Hurepaya in French will be repeated with the same cast as last week, Fely Dereyne as Pilar, George Baklanoff as Ramon, and Robert Lassalle as Pedro. Jose Nardoues as Le Wicux. Ruby Savage will sing the two roles of Une Fiancee and Une Fille. Others in the cast are Leo Devaux, C. Siroesco, R. Fornari, Carl Gantvoort, Howard Whitey, Luigi Taxecchia, Pierre Letol, F. Huddy and Grace Fisher. Misses Florence, Wilson, Lucas, Dolfini, will take the parts of Pluiseurs femmes, and Messrs. Cacieli Mauri, Sandrini, Varette, Guidini, as pluseurs hommes. Andre Caplet will conduct. The Imperial Russian Dancers will repeat their dance of Thursday evening. The Arabian Knights, with a complete ballet.

The opera to be presented at the Saturday matinee on Dec. 24th will be Mefistofele in Italian by Boito, with Alice Nielsen as Margherita and Carmen Melis as Elena. Florenco Constantino as Faust, and Jose Mardones as Mefistofele. Others in the cast C. Siroesco, Maria Clausens, Elvira Leveroni, Roberto Moranzoni will conduct.

The opera to be presented at the Saturday evening performance at popular prices from 50c to $2.50 will be Otello, in Italian, by Verdi, with Giovanni Zentello as Otello, Paklanoff as Iago, and Jose Mardones as Lodovico. Frances Alda will sing Desdemona and Maria Claessens Emilia. Ernesto Giaccone and C. Siroesco, F. Huddy will also appear. Arnaldo Conti will conduct the performance.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Malden, Mass., Dec. 14.—Alonzo W. Campbell, after instantly killing Mabel W. Campbell, his wife, in her parents' home at 44 Wyeth street, when she refused a reconciliation, turned his revolver on himself, firing three shots, the last through his heart.

Campbell's father-in-law, Mr. Coffin, had succeeded in effecting a meeting between Campbell and the latter's wife, hoping to end the quarrel which had kept the young couple apart for three months.

The Campbells were married in Malden nine years ago, and had five children. Two of the children have been with Campbell's sister in North Adams. Mr. Coffin had taken two, and Mrs. Campbell had the baby.

Their married life was very unhappy. Campbell drank at times, and was frequently out of work. Several times they had separated for short periods, but, until the last quarrel, these separations had been of short duration, always patched up by the efforts of relatives.

The Campbells were of the same age, 28 years.

Four Surgeons Appointed by Meyer for the Purpose.

A board of naval physicians has been appointed by the Secretary of the navy to investigate the typhoid fever epidemic at Annapolis. The board is composed of the following: Medical Inspector John M. Edgar, Surgeon Edward C. Parker, Surgeon Charles S. J. Butler and Passed Assistant Surgeon Owen J. Mink. The board will immediately conduct an extensive study of the epidemic. The department, it is said, is not so much concerned over the prevalence of the disease as it is over the cause of the disease in the first place. It is believed that the fever has about spent its force, and it is stated at the navy department that there is no cause for alarm. As soon as the disease developed to any extent, a number of special nurses were sent to the academy from the National hospital in Washington.

MILITIA PAID TO ATTEND DRILLS

Washington, Dec. 13.—Service pay for members of the National Guard is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania. All men in the ranks who attend forty-eight drills during the year or such equivalent duty as is prescribed are to be entitled to twenty-five per cent of the pay of a man in the regular army. No allowance will be made when less than twenty drills have been attended, and between that number and forty-eight the pay is to be a proportionate amount of the twenty-five per cent. All officers below the rank of general officers are to have fifteen per cent of the pay that goes to a regular army officer of like rank. General officers are to receive five per cent of the pay of like grades in the regular army. No allowance can secure the allowance during the first year of his enlistment unless he makes a record score with the arm used by his branch of the service.

DANIEL W. BADGER ELECTED MAYOR BY CLOSE VOTE

ward, and he also received a good vote in Wards 4 and 5. Walker, however, carried Ward 2 by 28 votes, and Ward 3, but it was not sufficient to overcome the lead gained in the other wards and Mr. Blaisdell won out by 65 majority.

In the contest for the Board of Public Works, William L. Conlon, the Democratic candidate, who was elected, carried Wards 1 and 3, and while Mr. Cater carried the other three wards it was by slight majorities and he was defeated by 75 votes.

There was heavy cutting in the vote for councilmen at large and John G. Parsons of Ward 2, the Democratic candidate, won out quite handily, but he did not take the rest of the councilmen with him. Mr. Parsons polled a big vote that was only exceeded by Mr. Robert I. Sugden, Republican, of Ward 3. Willie Kierman of Ward 2 was defeated for the council, and Robert M. Herrick, Republican, won out over Edward Weeks by 77 majority, while Albert Hislop had a good majority.

The vote for ward councilmen was close as a rule. In Ward 1 Councilman Littlefield was re-elected over Joseph C. Pettigrew, Republican, by twelve votes; in Ward 2 George H. Clarke, Republican, had a good majority, as did John Leary, Democrat, in Ward 3. In Ward 4 the vote was so close that it is expected that a recount will be demanded. Charles E. Hammond, Republican, defeating Clarence H. Pearson, Democrat, by five votes. In Ward 5 John W. Smart, Republican, had the usual ward majority.

This gives the Republicans six out of the nine votes, a safe majority even with a Democratic mayor. There was very little interest taken in the Board of Education, as there was no contest, all of the candidates being on both ballots. It was noticeable that there were very few ladies voting, in some of the wards only one or two.

The Democrats were very much elated over the election of their candidates. The Republicans attempted a celebration, but it was not a great success. With a flute and drum band, Mr. Eben H. Blaisdell, the successful candidate for assessor of taxes; Robert W. Plimney and about six others, made a short parade about the city and later secured some red fire, but at no time was there more than a dozen in line.

The following was the vote for the different candidates:

THE GLOVERS IN WASHINGTON

Much mystery was thrown around the trip which George W. Glover, the son of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy; his daughter, Mary Baker Glover; his son, George W. Glover, Jr., and Dr. Ebenezer J. Foster-Eddy, Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, made Monday to Washington, where they are now in the house of Hon. William E. Chandler, who was chief counsel for the "next friends" in the suit in equity brought against Mrs. Eddy in Merrimack county, N. H., in the spring of 1907.

Monday, while it was given out that the Glovers and Dr. Foster-Eddy were still at the Portsmouth residence of John W. Keller, ex-Senator Chandler's associate in the "next friends" litigation, they were actually on their way to Washington, where they arrived Tuesday.

These facts were secured Monday but it was impossible to get from Mr. Keller any information as to why the Glovers and Foster-Eddy had gone to Washington, to see Mr. Chandler. The only admission that could be obtained from Mr. Keller, when the matter was put up to him, was that the Glovers and Foster-Eddy were in Washington.

George Glover said on Friday last that he probably would go home when he got ready to return to Lead, S. D., by way of Washington, for the purpose of calling on Senator Chandler, but his sudden departure for Washington, in advance of the will of his mother being read, was a surprise, as it was so unexpected.

Up to Saturday both George Glover and Foster-Eddy had been of the mind that they would not undertake any contest of Mrs. Eddy's will, but they had been besieged with voluntary legal advice from outside the ranks of their own counsel to the effect that a contest could be successfully undertaken, and it may be they have been influenced in some degree by this contributed advice, and have gone to Washington to consult Mr. Chandler and see what he thinks of the situation.

MEYER'S ECONOMY SCHEME

House Naval Committee to Call on Secretary for Thorough Explanation.

Once more Mr. Meyer, secretary of the navy, has been called upon by Congress to prove that his naval reorganization plan will hold water. The house naval committee has determined to examine with minute care every point which Mr. Meyer has put forth as to the efficiency and economy of his plan of administration. Secretary Meyer stands ready to defend his figures. He will appear before the house committee after his bureau chiefs have ended their testimony as to the estimates, and under a scrutinizing cross-examination by the members, will tell how he has cut the estimates for the fiscal year 1912 by approximately $4,300,000. He will also explain the liquidation of the naval supply fund of $2,700,000 which he has asked Congress to cover back into the treasury.

T. J. Cowles, paymaster general and chief of the bureau of supplies and accounts, appeared before the committee Monday. He is the successor of Eustace R. Rogers, who last winter testified against the Meyer plan before the committee. A member of the committee had this to say of Mr. Cowles' testimony, which was given in executive session. "Mr. Cowles was forced to admit that of the $2,700,000 which Secretary Meyer says will be saved to the government, $1,500,000 represents merely a credit account, and the only actual cash that can be covered back into the treasury is $1,200,000. He also admitted that the credit account was over obligated at the time of the liquidation. Moreover, he admitted that, by the order of Secretary Meyer, $1,800,000 of the supply fund was turned over to the various bureaus without any charge made against the appropriations for those bureaus."

NAVY YARD

Time Extension on the North Carolina

Report of Wage Board is Anxiously Awaited

Other Items of Interest From the Reservation

Congratulations!
Hospital Steward C. R. Steen of the yard dispensary was the busiest man in the establishment on Tuesday. His activity was not fully confined to his regular duties. He was obliged to attend to the many congratulations that came his way on the birth of a daughter, and no member of the corps on duty there can smile like the steward.

They Got it Again
The firm of F. M. Hobbs and company has been awarded the quarterly contract by the navy department to furnish the meats and provisions for the ships at this station.

Extension of Time
The navy department has granted an extension of time for the repair work on the U. S. S. North Carolina, and the ship will sail not later than Dec. 31. The original orders were Dec. 20th. The change in orders is very pleasing to the crew who expected to pass Christmas on the ocean.

Only Few More Needed
Four more boys are needed to take the apprentice examination. The vacancies to be filled are in the trades of shipsmith and boilermaker.

Frank Back on the Job
Frank L. Jones machinist's helper, has resumed his duties in the machinery division, after a sick furlough.

Birmingham Sailor Honored
President Taft Tuesday personally presented to Chief Electrician William B. Snyder, attached to the scout cruiser Birmingham, a medal of honor for heroism and courage in saving the life of a sailor who fell overboard from the ship while at anchor in Hampton Roads last January. The thermometer was near zero at the time of the accident and a strong tide was running, but Snyder dived into the water and, after some difficulty, succeeded in reaching and saving his shipmate. Snyder is from South Bethlehem, Pa.

Want Tribute to Perry
The cooperation of the navy department in paying tribute to Commodore Perry at the proposed centennial of the battle of Lake Erie was sought Tuesday when Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop was requested on the occasion of the centennial, to send a flotilla of war vessels to Put-in-Bay, where the celebration will be held, and also to arrange for a naval museum in the Perry Memorial building, which it is proposed to erect. Such relics as the guns from the battleship Maine, it is proposed, be placed in the museum. Mr. Winthrop received the proposition favorably, but because of the remoteness of the date for the centennial, which will be held three years hence, was unable to give a definite answer. In the event that it is decided to send the warships to lake Erie for the centennial, the navy department anticipates no opposition from Great Britain. It is believed that a request from the government that the treaty rights governing armored vessels on the Great Lakes be waived for the occasion would encounter no opposition from England.

PERSONALS

Capt. S. H. Harding, superintendent of the First life saving district, was in Elliot Tuesday inspecting the life boat being built there for the new Appledore station.

Robert J. Ballard has returned to this city from New Mexico, where he is exploring the wilderness for the Topoka railroad system. Mr. Ballard will stay about two months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Ballard.

Mrs. John W. Shannon, Mrs. William P. Stanley and Mrs. Taylor Waterhouse, who comprise the outlook committee of the King's Daughters of the Middle street Baptist church, have been delegated to arrange for a Christmas distribution of gifts.

Lumber Coming Along
Three carloads of lumber for the repairs of the Kittery bridge to the yard have arrived from the dealers at Boston who are furnishing the lot required for the work.

A Fight for the Position of Skipper
It is evident that the matter of what flag the Flying Fish from New Castle shall sail under is not the most important thing that has disturbed the minds of the crew. Reports from this island town have it that after an all night session on Tuesday they failed to adopt any uniform for the officers and to settle the dispute as to who will command the famous craft on her daily trips between Fort Point and the shore of Seavey's Island.

CONGRATULATES HIS SUCCESSOR

Mayor-Elect Badger today received the following communication:

December 14, 1910.
Dear Mr. Badger:—I most sincerely congratulate you and our citizens generally upon your election as mayor of Portsmouth. You enter upon the duties of your office at a most favorable time. The general business outlook for the city was never brighter.

The business principles upon which city affairs are being conducted is resulting in a lower tax rate each year, and bringing new industries in our midst. Portsmouth is beginning to grow fast. All the departments of the city are well organized, in charge of competent officers, and under one roof.

Your administration will practically begin in a new city building. I shall esteem it a great privilege to help make you familiar with some of the duties of your responsible office—you are to feel free to call upon me at any time for such assistance as you think I can render.

With best wishes, I remain
Yours very truly,
EDWARD H. ADAMS.

PROTEST CHANGE OF OLD PICTURES

Patriotic citizens of New Hampshire are wrought up over the changes made in the hanging of numerous old paintings of the state's famous Revolutionary heroes in the Legislative Hall at Concord.

Famous and valuable oils, such as those of Stark, Sullivan, Poor, Clutey and others which have heretofore occupied conspicuous and honored positions, have been relegated to obscure corners of the halls, while their places have been usurped by likenesses of statesmen, according to a telegram received by the Herald today.

A protest at the change is to be made, accompanied by a demand that the portraits be returned to their original positions.

POLICE COURT

John Jennings, who assaulted his wife on Monday night, was given a hearing today in police court on a charge of assault with intent to kill. He pleaded not guilty and was held without bail for a further hearing two weeks hence, pending the condition of the woman, who is now confined to the hospital.

George Russell, charged with keeping liquor for sale, pleaded not guilty, and was held in the sum of $200 for a hearing at the April term of superior court. He furnished bail.

Tony Salvatore, drunk, paid a fine of $5.00 and costs of $0.13.

George Wilson, drunk, six months at county farm and costs of $6.90.

Patrick Driscoll, drunk, six months at county farm and costs of $6.90.

PREPARING TO BUILD WHARF

Mayor Adams and members of the city government, together with officials of the W. H. McElwala company, took a trip to the Pickering farm near the Newington line this afternoon.

The object of their visit was to look over the scene with a view to determining the location of the wharf which the company, has asked the Board of Trade and Merchants Exchange permission to build on the property it recently purchased.

JUDGE PAGE'S VIEWS ON VOTE BUYING

The dread of buying votes yesterday was heightened by the city committee of both parties. The democrats advertised a reward of $100 and Judge Calvin Page a reward of $50 for evidence that would convict any person of buying votes. Judge Page said it was a sad commentary on the social structure of the city when vote-buying undermined elections and caused decent men to shrink from entering the booths.

In the rallies prior to election Judge Page advised his democratic constituents to challenge any man calling for assistance who was not a cripple, was not blind and was apparently able to read and write. Early Tuesday morning Frank L. Woods challenged a young man in Ward 4 on the ground that he could not read and write. The man said he could not, but strange as it seemed he signed an affidavit to that effect. Mr. Woods challenged five other voters and caused them to make affidavit that he had not been promised any form of reward. Some time ago the democrats accused Mr. Woods of double-crossing them, but a democratic atmosphere surrounded him yesterday.

A KODAK Christmas

has been the greatest KODAK year ever known. More KODAKS have been used and more enjoyment derived from their use than ever before since the KODAK took its place as a vacation and all the year round companion.

The Year 1911

bids fair to eclipse even the great record of 1910. Thousands of boys, girls and grown-up people will get Kodaks and Brownies for Xmas gifts. There is nothing you can present the young folks which will prove more acceptable. Remember to put "Kodak" on your shopping list.
